Events for Celebrate Literacy Week 2014

Monday, January 13th

- Blue 2 classes – teacher provides a Read Aloud for students. (This may be content-related, or just for fun. See Ms. Sikes for materials if you need them.)

Tuesday, January 14th

- Red 3 classes – Poetry Jam! Celebrate poetry by reading (or writing) poems. Google for ideas (ex. Physical Education Poems, Science Poetry). Use some AVID writing strategies (I Am poems, Bio poems, Acrostics, etc.) See Ms. Sikes or Ms. Badger for ideas.

Wednesday, January 15th

- Skinny classes – DEAR (Drop Everything and Read). Students and teachers read silently from materials of their choice. Reading for pleasure is important for everyone!

Thursday, January 16th

- Red 4 classes – Reader's Theater. Teachers may use a play they already have, or Ms. Sikes can provide a short play about Martin Luther King. Get students involved in reading with proper expression.

Friday, January 17th

- Hat's On for Reading! Students may pay $1 to wear a hat to school today. All funds collected will be donated to the media center's budget for books for our school.
